

June 2007

Davicon wins the Supplier of the Year Award

It's always nice to receive praise for a job well done but no more so than from a whole host of customers. And so it was at this year's SHEDA AGM (The Storage & Handling Equipment Distributors' Association). Its members (many our customers) voted overwhelmingly for Davicon to receive the top award 'Supplier of the Year'. After taking first place, Mark Jones, Davicon's Key Account Manager, said "we have worked hard at improving our professionalism across the entire business over the past 3 years and it's hugely rewarding to see that effort has been recognised by our customers and by our peers."

Pictured above left Craig Powell, President of SHEDA congratulates Davicon Account Manager Mark Jones